

Biophotified beans

Value chain

Regional Platform

The implemented initiative

A regional platform to strengthen the value chain of biofortified beans in indigenous peoples and peasants in Latin America and the Caribbean. The platform will allow the exchange of knowledge and successful experiences between research institutions and national and international public-private alliances to promote the production and consumption of biofortified beans.

The technological solution

MÁS INFO

Results

Main donors

Participating Organizations

